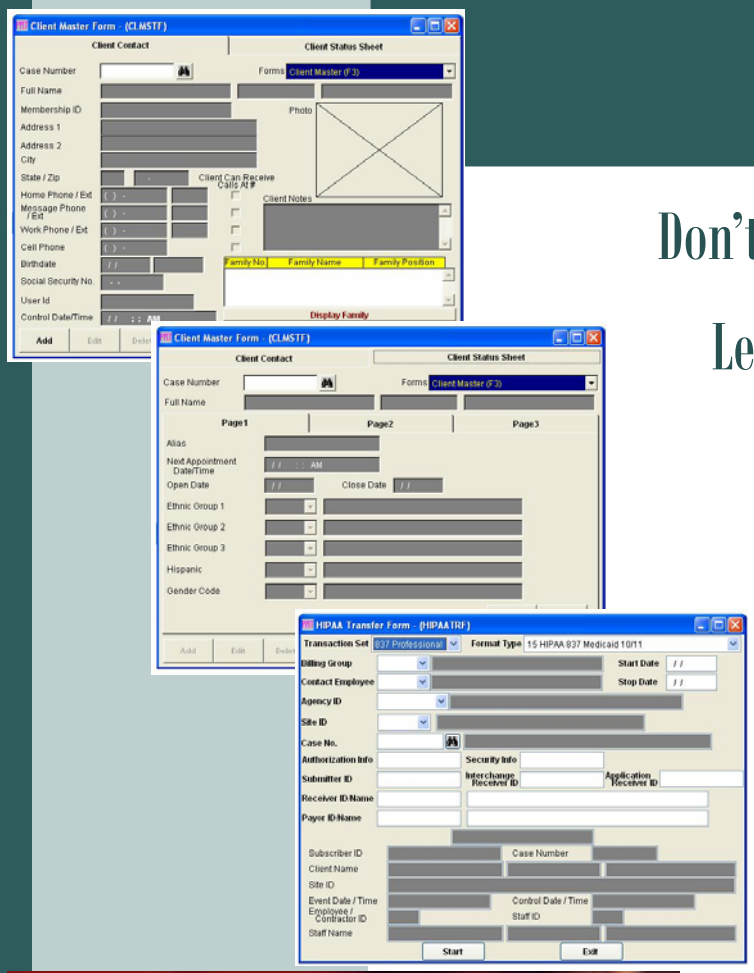
Visual Billing Service

BY PRACTICE MANAGEMENT TECHNOLOGIES



Don't have the time or the resources...

Let us do the paperwork for you!

Offering a unique structure in the practice management arena, PM Tech allows you to be in the driver's seat. By billing for you, we can insure that you will experience a greater return on your claims without the hassle and speculation that comes from doing it yourself.

Coupling this service with the state-of-the art technology found in our signature software applications, PM Tech bills for you while keeping the cost affordable and generally cheaper than most providers in the industry. In addition, PM Tech provides ongoing consulting and training for an easy transition for when the time comes to bring such services in-house.

With an average acceptance rate of 99.2% on processed claims, you can't afford to let anyone else do your billing for you.

About PM Tech

Practice Management Technologies (PM Tech) is a software development company focusing on intuitive products designed for professional medical and behavioral health offices and organizations of any size and complexity.

Our development team at PM Tech has over 30 years of health information management expertise and our implementation and training staff have diverse and actual hands-on experience within the medical and mental health industry. Implementation and training is an integral part of making any application work for your organization so we pride ourselves on having a superior product with superior training. We also pride ourselves on the development of our applications being "customer driven". We work very closely with our customers via user group meetings to discuss what changes/enhancements they feel are needed to make our applications work to optimize the use of your time and positively effect your bottom line.

PM Tech offers three products lines: Visual Front Office, Visual Private Office, and Visual CMH Office. Each suite offers users a "state of the art" software solution that tracks client information and billing, treatment planning, appointment scheduling, medication monitoring, service authorizations, and claims management. Each module is designed to work in conjunction with each other, sharing information to eliminate repetitive data entry, or can act as a stand alone application. PM Tech's products are currently in use by agencies accredited by JCAHO, COA and CARF.
